Year 2018---1191 members

Year 2019---189 members

Member Concerns: Greg Kershul urged the Board to get a professional website manager for the GCRGC website. Director Ben Mock asked if Fred who has been volunteering could fill the role. President Trebby said Fred has expressed limited time to work on the club's website due to other obligations. Treasurer Shannon Wells says she knows of an actual company that could fit the role with the contact individual being John Winters.

A member states there is an issue of the 22LR silhouette group going away if leadership is not found. Director Dean Wells said he has someone in mind but has not approached that person yet. Treasurer Wells says the 22LR Silhouette shoot is warmly looked at by the community and it would be a shame if it went away. The gate for the silhouette shoot is opened at 11am, registration at 12 and shoot at 12:30 PM. October is cancelled due to heavy range usage by hunters sighting in their firearms.

Director Dean Wells asks the membership for volunteers to man the gate for various events coming up on the calendar. Secretary Jim Bunting said to put him on the list of volunteers.

Range Status: Director Dean Wells has replaced eight wood backboards on the rifle ranges and has tightened up several loose bolts on the pistol range steel targets. Secretary Bunting has been refilling/checking the waiver box most everyday. Secretary Bunting is still finding liquor bottles and beer cans in the trash at the first pistol range. Director Robertson and Secretary Bunting have volunteered for night patrols. Dave Timney made a request for a night shoot for Gem County Sheriff's Office. They will be shooting at car parts with glass but will lay down tarps. Sharon Write requested that the club buy new tables for their Cowboy Action group. Treasurer Shannon Wells and Director Dean Wells said they can get the new tables at Costco.

Motion: Director Wells makes the motion for the night training of the Gem County Sheriff's Office and is seconded by Director Robertson.

Director Hoobery states that the GCRGC needs to seek legal council in order to ensure its access on the road to the firearm range if the property gets sold from current owner David Shaw. Director Wells said he thought Attorney Alex Kincaid was on retainer. Secretary Jim Bunting said he will contact Attorney Kincaid and find out if she can help us with the access issue.

Website: President Trebby reports that the website is coming along nicely. The GCRGC minutes and calendar are up now. There were a few corrections like the club's address but that is now fixed. President Asked the Board for more essential content to put on the website. Director Robertson said the development company for the GCRGC website needs to be on the November meeting agenda.

Motion: Director Hoobery makes a motion that if the purchase price for tables the Cowboy Action asked for runs over the amount of $200 that those funds are approved. The motion was seconded by Director Robertson and the motion carries.

Motion to adjourn 8:00: Director Hoobery and seconded by Director Wells.
